HISTORY OF NIMB

World-class gastronomic tradition through more than a 100 years

In the late 19th century more and more people were seeking towards the bigger cities and Copenhagen was in the midst of rapid growth. This development also showed its impact on the gastronomic front. In 1872 the Nimb family took over the Tivoli restaurant DIVAN 2, which was popularly known as Nimb's Terrace. DIVAN 2 quickly became known as an upscale restaurant for the rich and famous. The common Danish plain rye bread sandwiches "smørrebrød" were replaced by tall open sandwiches, and the Nimb restaurant was the first to introduce this elegant version of the open sandwich as part of a finer gastronomic concept.

The Nimb building as we know it today, first opened its doors in 1909. The palace-like building inspired by the Moorish architecture was originally built by Tivoli house architect and managing director Knud Arne-Petersen. After opening in 1909 the house of Nimb soon established itself as one of the leading restaurants in Copenhagen.

Prior to the opening in 1909, the Nimb family had proven to be successful restaurateurs and had created a strong name for themselves. Decorative art exhibitions were held in the Nimb Bazaar, and the house oozed of life and creativity. Already in the 1920s the young and sophisticated were hanging out at Nimb. In the 1930s, the state radio broadcasted live transmissions from the site, and Nimb became nationally known for its successful parties and state-of-the-art music.

As DIVAN 2 in 2011 once again became a part of Nimb, the name was changed to Nimb Terrasse (Nimb's Terrace) – as a tribute to the original restaurant and the Nimb family's history of being successful gastronomes for more than a hundred years. Nimb Terrasse closed in December 2016 and in April 2017 the newest addition to the Nimb restaurant experience was launched at the same address: Gemyse - an urban garden restaurant in the heart of Tivoli.

NIMB IN OUR TIME

Adventure, romance and Nordic design in historic surroundings

In 2007 the Nimb house underwent a total refurbishment, both internally and externally. The facade was restored in Italian marble stucco to create a simpler, more exclusive feel. Solid Douglas wooden floors were installed, and interior elements of Øland granite were integrated in the interior design. Natural materials of the highest quality were used to give Nimb a breath of modern Scandinavian architecture, while preserving the original Moorish inspiration.

In November 2017 a new wing was added to the Nimb building. The hotel expanded from 17 to 38 luxurious rooms and suites - still offering the highest quality throughout. New York-based architects Pei Cobb Freed & Partners have designed this ultramodern building, which has expanded Nimb Hotel by 2,000 square metres.

Nimb is owned and operated by Tivoli A/S.

Nimb is a home of wonderful culinary craft and skill, which is delivered through our passionate chefs who are regarded as some of the best talent in their field in Copenhagen. Each of our seven restaurants and bars has a clear and unique concept, all sharing the same message of quality.

In all of our restaurants, bars and events, we focus on sourcing the very best produce to work with. Seasons permitting, we only source Danish and Nordic organic greens, all throughout Nimb. We work closely with local farmers, fishermen and craftsmen to ensure the freshness and quality of our raw ingredients.

The Nimb story is one of history, dating back to late 1870ies where our first restaurant was realized. Our diverse food experiences range from traditional open face sandwiches in Fru Nimb, to French brasserie classics in Nimb Brasserie, organic greens with inspirational taste in Gemyse and elegant grill cuisine at Nimb Bar'n'Grill.
